Estate and Financial Record Organizer

At The Haverford Trust Company, we recognize the importance of planning ahead and value the peace of mind that comes from being prepared for the future.

This planning guide may be used to help you and your loved ones organize and quickly access essential information relating to your estate, assets, important contacts and documents, as well as your final wishes. While it may be difficult to have conversations with your loved ones about sensitive matters, it is important to share this information. This organizer can help ease the burden on your family and friends, while ensuring that your final wishes are effectively communicated. Remember to regularly review the information contained in this organizer so that it reflects your latest thoughts and wishes.

Make sure to share the location of this organizer with the family and/or friends that will be responsible for your end-of-life care. Keep this organizer in a secure location—but make sure it is accessible to those who need to know so that your wishes can be carried out in due time. (For example, if this organizer is kept in a safe deposit box, your survivors may not be able to access it until after your interment.) Conversely, you can provide copies of this document to trusted loved ones in a sealed envelope with instructions to open only in case of medical emergency.

This Estate Organizer is intended to provide you with a tool to help assemble your personal estate planning information. It should not be used as your exclusive tool for this purpose, and your personal circumstances may require additional information not captured or stored by this tool. It is not a legal document and in no way is meant to replace a Will.

Survivor's Guide

Immediate Steps

- Locate last original Will
- Contact executor or someone who can assist you (for example, an attorney)
- Review wishes of deceased regarding burial given in this Estate Organizer
- Make funeral and burial arrangements
- Prepare obituary, if not already done

Secondary Steps

- Collect and assemble the following documents:
  - Certified death certificate—obtained from the funeral director
  - Life insurance policies
  - Bank account numbers
  - Marriage license
  - Birth certificate
  - Social Security number
  - Veteran's records
  - Tax returns for the last three years
- Contact attorney, if not already done, regarding estate settlement
- Notify insurance agents (life, home, auto)
- Notify all financial institutions and representative of death

Neither Haverford nor its representatives provide tax or legal advice.
Consult with your tax advisor or attorney regarding specific issues

Survivor's Guide (Continued)

Life, Home, Auto Insurance

- Contact local insurance agents or offices for claim forms on personal insurance
- Check employers for group life insurance benefits and claim forms
- If accidental death, check for double indemnity provision
- Check for Creditor's Life Insurance on all installment purchases
- Provide all insurance companies and employee benefit departments with completed claim forms and certified death certificate
- Note that life insurance benefits may be paid to survivors as:
  - one-time lump sum,
  - held at interest, or
  - periodic payment of principal and interest

Social Security

- Apply for burial benefit through funeral director
- Locate your local Social Security Office address and phone number at <https://www.ssa.gov> or 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778). Representatives are available between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays.
- Apply at the nearest social security office in person, and present the following:
  - Social security number of the deceased
  - Certified death certificate
  - Proof of relationship to the deceased (for example, marriage license or birth certificate)

Veteran's Benefits

Read more about benefits for veterans of U.S. Armed Forces and find your local office at <http://www.va.gov> or 1-800-827-1000.

- Survivors of veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces may qualify for:
  - GI or National Service Life Insurance, if policy is in force at time of death
  - Lump sum burial benefit of $300 (apply through funeral director)
  - Burial in national cemetery
  - Burial flag
- Apply in person at local Veterans Administration Office and present the following:
  - Birth certificate of the deceased
  - Social security number of the deceased
  - Certified death certificate

Executor's Duties

Locate and Read Will

- Expedite the stated services, funeral, obituary, and burial instructions and wishes
- Meet members of family and other involved parties
- Confer with attorney who drafted the Will and persons familiar with financial affairs

Safeguard Assets

- Take immediate protective measures as necessary to safeguard assets
- Consider insurance for protection of both real and personal property
- Update titles and consider opening an account in the name of the estate
- Secure knowledge of active business affairs; examine all books and files
- Give notice of death to banks, investment advisors, insurance companies, mortgage lenders, credit cards, and others

Consider Probating Will

- Obtain original Will
- Attempt to locate witnesses to the Will
- Probate Will:
  - For protection afforded by probate
  - Take into consideration size and complexity of estate
- Obtain necessary court orders for the administration of the estate
- Cancel any memberships (country clubs, gym, etc.)

Assemble and Inventory All Assets

- Take proper steps to collect insurance policies, secure tax waivers, and collect all cash
- Inventory and appraise all household goods and effects, safeguarding valuables
- Press all claims for amounts due—locate evidence and witnesses on contested claims
- Arrange proper supervision and management for active business interests
- Obtain custody of securities, collect all interest and dividends
- Review leases, tax filings, and mortgages of real estate and arrange for management
- Review escheat records of all locations in which decedent lived

Procure Qualified Appraisal of All Assets

- Gather complete and satisfactory evidence of the value of all assets at the time of death

Administer Estate

Administration is governed by the wishes expressed in Will, the requirements of estate and the local probate law.

- Give special study to valuable collections, determine method and time of sale for articles not gifted, make a careful estimate of amount of cash to be raised for tax payments, legacies, and expenses of administration, and estate distribution.
- Review business interest and determine continuance, liquidation, or sale, as expressed in Will and/or business succession plan.
- Review market conditions for each asset to decide which should be sold first, if necessary, to meet taxes, expenses, claims, and specific bequests and reduce large concentrations or reduce market risk.
- Investigate all real estate from the standpoint of earnings and, in case circumstances require its sale, market desirability.

Prepare All Tax Returns

Preparing for taxes is an intricate and involved procedure in which particular forms of information and returns must be prepared and filed with each taxing body. Consider engaging a qualified tax professional to prepare tax returns.

- Pay final income taxes:
  - Consider pre-payment of inheritance taxes for possible discounts
  - Attend to income tax for part of year prior to death
  - File return and pay tax for partial year after death
  - Make careful survey of all possible tax claims to see that no further liability exists upon review by the government
- Pay the balance due on all inheritance and estate taxes:
  - Ascertain and pay inheritance tax in state of residence and obtain waivers for transfer of securities
  - Arrange for necessary proceedings to release securities or property located in other states
  - File preliminary notice, prepare return, and pay both state inheritance and federal estate tax
  - Assess if a gift tax return is required

Settle All Proper Claims

- Publish notices to creditors, obtain all available evidence regarding propriety of each claim filed, resist all improper claims, pay all approved and allowed claims out of estate funds.

Distribute Probate Estate

- Prepare final account, as needed, showing in detail all receipts and disbursements. If necessary, notify interested persons of filing of the account and distribute remaining property as confirmed by the court.
- Complete all testamentary gifts or bequests
- Complete funding of any testamentary trusts
- Distribute all remaining assets as directed by the Will

Obtain Final Discharge

- After final payment and distribution to legatees and devisees, the executor should obtain a closing letter from the IRS. The estate tax closing letter is evidence that the IRS has accepted the estate tax return as filed and that all federal estate tax liabilities have been satisfied. This letter allows the executor to close the estate administration. For all estate tax returns filed after June 1, 2015 the executor must request that an estate tax letter be issued from the IRS. This is done by calling the IRS at 866.699.4083. The following information must be provided when the executor calls.
  - Name of the Decedent
  - Decedent's social security number
  - Decedent's date of death
- The estate tax letter will only be issued to the executor at the address of record. For all estates with a zero tax liability the IRS directs that requests for an estate tax closing letter be made after waiting a minimum of four months for the date of filing the estate tax return. For all estates with a federal estate tax liability the IRS has indicated the request should be made after waiting a minimum of six to nine months from the filing date of the estate tax return. These timelines are general guidance and the actual time required for the IRS to issue the closing letter could be considerably longer.
